Suzanne Thiesfeld – Fabric Paintings

Suzanne inspired by a long line of artist in her family. An amazing painter Suzanne now combines Fabric which allows her to use color quickly and forces her to be loose in my compositions. Batiks and hand dyed materials work perfectly in fabric paintings. However, prints in some pieces make the painting come to life. The stitching is done on a sewing machine. Booth # 16

In my paintings am idealizing the universal flower or leaf, seeing the leaf or flower as an icon, an object of contemplation and meditation. I am telling my story line by line, a story of the beauty I saw in a particular place and time. See front cover for Mary's Arboretum Walk Find her at booth # 22

Leigh Larson

When I paint, I can feel the built up stress release. Sometimes I find myself crying. Sometimes I find myself dancing. Often, I pray. Through my painting, I am encouraging each viewer to slow down in this fast-paced world, in hopes to discover the great beauty this earth

Jeff Lenzmeier – Potter

ArtFind Demo Potter

Jeff Lenzmeier uses a simple palette focused on browns, rusts, and greens that remind him of his favorite season, fall. The blues in my palette remind me of water and sky, reminiscent of the many days of my youth spent outside and by the lakes and rivers of Minnesota. Stop by and see him Throw a Pot in the center tent Booth # 32

Ashley Hise – Ceramics

Growing up in ‘the Northwoods’ for me meant freedom to explore nature. I loved collecting bones; studying their strength and delicacy, being enveloped by water; watching its ever-changing patterns and slow sculpting-conversation with the shoreline, and the way nature draws you in for a closer look to reveal all her beauty
